

Meridian Industries - Code of Conduct & Confidentiality Policy

1. Unpublished Price Sensitive Information (UPSI)

All employees who come into possession of Unpublished Price Sensitive Information (UPSI) in the course of their duties are designated Insiders and are bound by this policy. UPSI includes any information relating to the Company or its securities, directly or indirectly, that is not generally available and which upon becoming generally available is likely to materially affect the price of the Company's securities.

Procedure for reporting a breach of UPSI: any employee who becomes aware of, suspects, or is responsible for an actual or potential breach of UPSI confidentiality must inform the Compliance Officer immediately. The Compliance Officer will take measures to rectify the disclosure, which may include a public announcement to bring the information into the public domain, internal investigation, and notification to the Board's Audit Committee. Delayed reporting of a known breach is itself treated as a violation of this policy.

2. Confidentiality and Data Protection

Employees must not disclose confidential Company information, including UPSI, trade secrets, customer data, or internal financial data, to any unauthorized person, whether inside or outside the Company. What happens if an employee leaks sensitive company data: such conduct is treated as a serious breach of this Code of Conduct and will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, and potential legal consequences, including civil liability and, in cases involving securities law violations, referral to regulatory authorities.

3. Office of the Compliance Officer

The Board of Directors has appointed the Vice President of Internal Audit, Ms. Anjali Sharma, as the Company's Compliance Officer under this Code. The Compliance Officer is responsible for administering this policy, maintaining the list of designated persons, and serving as the first point of contact for any reporting obligations described above. The identity of the Compliance Officer is also published in the Company's most recent corporate governance filing.
